SaraVard Von Gruenigen joins staff of Stanford Ag Credit

SaraVard Von Gruenigen has transferred from Ag Credit's Richmond Branch to the association's Stanford Branch. She has been a member of the Ag Credit team since September 2007 and served as a loan assistant in Richmond. Her transfer to Stanford incorporates a promotion to loan officer trainee.

Prior to joining the Ag Credit staff in 2007, SaraVard worked with the Kentucky Beef Council in Lexington in that organization's checkoff program. She is a native of Lancaster in Garrard County and the daughter of Ken and Vicki Gibson.

SaraVard earned her B.S. Degree in Agriculture with a Business minor from Eastern Kentucky University. She and her husband, Matthew, are also part-time farmers in the Garrard County/Cartersville area. They run a cow/calf operation consisting of 35 commercial cows on the 275-acre family farm.

SaraVard and Matthew will continue to reside in the Cartersville area.

She is a member of the Kentucky Cattlemen's Association and attends Leavel Green Christian Church in Cartersville.
